THE CITIZEN is the only paper in the territority that has authority to publish the Schwatka Alaskan letters.

Let us jog your memory again in l half of the meeting at the City hall this evening at 7:15 for the organization of the Y. M. C. A. So arrange your affairs that you can be on hand to take a share in this good work.

REPRESENTATIVE Harter, who has be come conspicious on account of his opposition to free coinage, is now after Senator Hill, having written an open letter to Hill asking him to state his position on free coinage, etc. The question is an ugly one and it will require considerable adroitness on the part of Hill to avoid giving a direct answer.

The CITIZEN is in receipt of an illus trated catalogue in natural colors, of tobaccos and cigars. It is probably the finest of the kind ever issued in the United states. It is a novelty in its way as showing the exact sizes and shapes of the articles illustrated. The book has been issued by the Wertheimer company of San Francisco and is said to have cost $15,000 to complete,

THE democrats are getting seriously alarmed over the outlook for their party in the next house of representatives which some of them acknowledge to be anything else but encouraging. In spite of their big majority in the pres ent house they see defeat staring them in the face, in the next congressional election. Representative McCreary, who wants to be chairman of the con gressional campaign committee, has obtained enough signatures to have a democratic caucus called for the purpose of naming the house members of that tal for any length of time. They will committee, and it will be issued at once.

THE commissioner of patents ha issued the following circular letter to all having business before or with that office: "The patent office regrets that in consequence of want of room for the storage and arrangement of printed copies of patents, it will be impossible to fill your order in current issues until additional room is provided by the proper authorites." This will entail great hardship on thousands of manufacturers, inventors and owners of patents and create much confusion. Congress has persistently neglected to appropriate the money for the necessary room for the United States patent office, in the face of the fact that the patent oflige has $4,000,000 of its own earnings lying idle in the public treasury. One-fourth of that amount would provide ample accomodations.

Ex-Speaker Reed was given agrand reception on Thursday evening by the National Republican Auxiliary Associstion, an organization composed of representatives for the various state from opinions expressed by individuals associations existing here, and a more enthusiastic crowd has never assembled in Washington. The ex-speaker responded to a congratulatory address delivered by Representative Burrows, of Michigan, in his best vein, not forgetting vivendi in Bering sea. Should be perthe short-comings of the democratic majority in the present house, including treaty will be rejected and a sufficient their economizing by cutting down the appropriation for school books for the poor children in the District of Columbia public schools, and closing with: "Meanwhile the republican party, emerging from its temporary disaster, turns its shining face to the future, now as ever the one hope of progress of the people of the United States."

THE vindication of the action of ex Speaker Reed in counting a quorum last congress by the decision of the supreme court in the worsted clasification act case, was especially pleasing to that gentleman. In an interview he said "Of course it is very gratifying to me to have the highest judicial tribunal in the country support my position of the legality of which, however, I have never had any doubts. The decision demonstrated that a quorum is composed of the number of persons present, whether they vote or not. This part of the opinion of the supreme court is without a single dissenting voice, the democratic and republican justices slike agreeing on this point. The action of the court in this respect sustains that of every court in every state in the country which has passed upon the question. It also shows the false posit ion occupied by the democrats on this question. It should for ever put an end to the assumption that a legal quorum can be broken by members refusing to vote when they are present in their

THE Pacific Rural Press says of the democratic quarrel in New York: Senator Hill's convention assembled according to programme on Washington's birthday and selected delegates four months in advance from New York to the National Democratic Conventionall of course avowed partisans of Hill and his political schemes. But within a few days thereafter another convention of democrats was held, protesting against the domination of Hill, de. claring his convention to be out of keeping with all precedent and a violation of rights of the members of the party at large, and naming another set of delegates to the national convention. It is not expected of course, even by those who were chosen by this second convention that they will be accorded seats at the convention at Chi cago. Every claum of party regularity and of party authority belongs to the Hill delegates, and they will unquestionably be admitted, while the protestants will be left out in the cold. On the other hand, the presence at Chicago of a considerable delegation backed by a large and respectable element of the New York democracy, will bear evidence to the fact that Hill cannot carry the united strength of his party in the presidential aspirations, have carried it in your pocket all this It looks now tas if Hill and Cleveland had succeeded in cutting each other's throats, for each has made it evident down and wrote a postscript explaining that the other cannot command the solid to her mother that the letter was desupport of the democrats of the Empire layed because John, as usual, forgot to

ABOUT PREACHERS AND PREACHING.

An article in the Congregationalist is so crammed with good points on preaching and preachers, that we give its substance here. It is by Rt. Rev. Thomas D. D. a really lenient Congregational preacher of Boston, well known to many readers of the CITIZEN;

Whenever I have an opportunitywhich is seldom—of hearing a sermon, is always strikes me as being "much above the average." and I go away with the idea that the rise in values of ser-It is the good preaching that has done The preaching has been so good nearers both. Every congregation has its percentcomplain of our preaching. Is it fair for ministers to complain of the preach-ing of brethren whom they have never heard? Moreover, the general state-ment that "the preaching of today is not what it ought to be" sounds too much like one of the stock phrases caught from the lips of peripatetic ex-

But a preacher may be a mere exhor ter. He may be a man moving within a very narrow circle of truth. He may be a man who simply memorizes other men's modes of utterance and other men's phraseology until you may be quite certain that he will say the same thing in the same form of words over and over again with no individual crea tiveness. Or he may be a preacher and teacher. The two ideas ought always to go together.

A settled pastor, teacher and preach er, dealing with the same congregation all the time, steadily raising them in intelligence and religious culture, must must not adopt the style of the revivalist or his tenure of office will be short, Then be must study his particular congregation. Each congregation has its individuality. With some not specially cultured congregations he can preach in an easy, extemporaneous fash-With other congregations it is faeventually take all you can give them providing you do not act the professor out be the teacher and preacher.

These men were not mere exhorters nere declaimers. They were teachers and preachers. They filled people full of idea. They did not merely stir feeling. They built up men and women in to strength and beauty of character. The preacher who is not also a teacher, simply a declaimer and exhorter, can never renew the mind of his congrega-

My contention is that any just grou of complaint that may exist in regard to the preaching of our time has been created by the adoption by preachers themselves of methods not natural to them, by the adoption of revivalistic methods in regular congestions of stated worshipers, by movement within a very narrow area of scripture truth, by the appeal to feeling to the neglect of the intellect, the conscience and the im agination.

THE president seeks no war with Great Britian or any other power, but like the patriotic American that he is he is determined that American rights shall be maintained, let the consequences be what they may. All of the correspondence up to date, together with the recently signed arbitration treaty, is before the senate, which judging is of about the same mind as the presient, and it is not probable that th treaty will be ratified, unless Lord Salisbury, on behalf of his government, shall agree to a renewal of the modus sist in refusing it is probable that the naval force sent to Bering sea to seize all illegal sealers, and if need be to fight any British vessels that may interfere. And that is not all. Canada may expect to find all the favors she now enjoys by courtesy of this government withdrawn. Lord Salisbury would better think twice before acting upon the last communication sent to him. He certainly would if he knew how very popular a war with Great Britian would be in this

With this issue we present the first of a series of letters on Alaska and British North America, from an expedition of exploration and research to that unknown and most remote of all our territories. The journey recently made by Schwatka was through 1,200 miles of wholly unknown country and is replete with interesting descriptions of that wonderful land. The expedition is known as the Ledger expedition, the expenses of which were borne by a syndicate of newspaper men formed in the United States and Canada. The second letter will appear on Saturday next, and one on Saturday of each week till the entire series will be completed. We mmend them to the careful attention of our readers.

F SUCCESS IS GENUINE. It Requires a Peculiar and Distinct Individuality. It seems as if success were a talent itself, dependent, it is true, on other qualities in a greater or less degree but having, nevertheless, a separate and distinct individuality. Some people quite wrongfully call this quality 'luck;" it is quite unjust, however, for although of course in many instances a fortuitous chain of circumstances may make or mar a man, as a rule the ccessful person generally owes his or her position to some intrinsic mer--to the talent, in short, of 'getting

It is not eleverness only; it is certain ly not genius; it is not even perseverance, necessary as that quality may be, although any or all of these properties may be found in a successful man or woman. It is perhaps the happy faculty of seizing the right mo-ment, of striking when the iron is hot, or that well known attribute which is generally ascribed to the English but which Americans certainly have their full share of, the courage that 'does not know when it is beaten."

However we may try to discover its mponent parts, this subtle quality defies analysis, and can never be either taught or learned, and we try in vain to solve the mystery of why some people succeed in everythin they undertake and others fail. -N. Y.

"John Scoldmuch!" exclaimed that poor gentleman's wife, "to you see this letter lying here in the card-receiver? I wrote it a week ago and you even't mailed it yet." "Well, it isn't my fault, Mary. one of the strangest duels ever fought has been brought into this city by a prospector who has been in the mountains southwest of Las Vegas. The country is near the border line between old and New Mexico and the people there are a mixture of the two races. Two young men, an American and a Mexican, fell out over a young woman whom they both loved and the result was that the enmity became too great to be carried and it was determined to end it in a duel. The matter came about in an unusual way, however, and it was not a regular challenge and acceptance but while in company of mutual friends the Mexican taunted the American with being a member of a race of cowards and said the Americans had no bravery. The American of course disputed this and said he would test the Mexican's bravery if he wished it. They both loved the same girl and he would be willing to go into a dark room with the Mexican and there de-

If either showed the white feather and came out before the death of the other or before all the tarantulas were killed he should give up all claim to the girl. The Mexican was disposed to refuse but the fear of being looked upon as a coward caused him to accept. The room was prepared and the two men There were at least a dozen tarantulas in the room and also two scorpions. TO THE HONORABLE MAYOR AND COM-MON COUNCIL. TUCSON ARIZONA.

GENTLEMEN:-I herewith submit the annual report of the board of trustees of the Tucson public library for the year ending February 8th 1892. During the year just passed the library has been prosperous, though the management has been badly handicapped, owing to the scarcity of funds. The subscription for the support of this institution remain about as it was when our last annual report was made. We believe that the public are awakening te the importance of this enterprise and it is the intention of the trustees, at an early date, to endeavor to increase our income by an earnest personal appeal to the public. At the beginning of the year we had for circulation 2,192 volumes; we have added by purchase 275 and by donation 85, making a total now on hand of 2562, We have received from the government 21 volumes of "The War of the Rebellion," making now on hand 685, which will be a very valuable collection in a few years, as duplicates are unavailable sured so that in the event of a fire a nucleus would be had, upon which t build such an institution. Durin the year 4117 books have been taken from the library and during the same period 2526 persons have availed themselves of the opportunity of visit-ing the library and using the same as a reading room. The trustees, in their endeavors to satisfy the demands of the public, are now keeping the library open two afternoons of each week, tinue to do so, if they find that their efforts are appreciated.

We wish at this time to gratefully thank this honorable board for their genorous aid, without which; this worthy institution could not be main tained, and assuring you that you shall have the hearty co-operation of this board in your endeavor to build up nonument to your generosity and intel ence of Tueson.

Taking butter from milk was known in the earliest times. It was left for our time to make a milk of codliver oil.

Milk, the emulsion of butter, is an easier food than butter. Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil is an easier food than cod-liver oil. It is rest for digestion. It stimulates. helps, restores, digestion; and, at the same time, supplies the body a kind of nourishment it can get in no other way.

Scorr & Bowsen, Chemists, 130 South 5th Avenue, New York, Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of 1std-liver eil—all druggists everywhere do. $1.
